UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT RULING

TAYLOR VS TAINTOR 355 CONN. 1873 SUPREME COURT

When bail is given, the principle is regarded as delivered to the custody of his or her sureties. Their domain is a continuance of the original imprisonment. Whenever they choose to do so, they may seize him and deliver him up their discharge, and if that can not be at once, they may arrest and imprison him until it can be done. They may pursue him in another state, may arrest him on the Sabbath, if necessary they may break and enter his house for that purpose. The seizure is not made by due process, none is needed. It is likened to the re-arrest by the sheriff of an escaping prisoner.
